We are out for 1,000 new readers! Are you with us?

With this end in view, we have planned and today announce a most liberal and attractive prize offering to our readers and friends—a drive for more subscribers as well as renewal subscriptions, in which we are offering a fine big Chevrolet Sedan or the cash equivalent for the major award, to be followed by a wonderful vacation trip and four other rich awards, and a handsome cash commission to all non-prize winners.

Local people are invited to enter this campaign and thereby participate in the rewards to be given in prizes and cash commissions to all active workers who will represent The Times in selling both old and new subscriptions. Elsewhere in this issue you will find a double-page announcement, explaining in full about the prizes to be given away. These wonderful prizes will be given to energetic men and women in return for their spare time during the next few weeks in helping us to build up a larger circulation for The Times.

Chevrolet First Award
Heading the list of rich awards to be given absolutely free in this big drive will be a Chevrolet Sedan valued at $1026, fully equipped and all ready to drive. The Chevrolet will be purchased by Mr. Schreffels, of the Chevrolet Motor Co., and is the very latest word in automotive transportation and will worth your spare time during the next few weeks.

In order to make first prize as attractive as possible, we are giving a second choice of a cruise down through the Panama Canal and back with all expenses paid. This trip takes you, by land and water, to California, Panama Canal, New York and across the United States.

If the winner of first place would

NINTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

(Issued by the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, August 22, 1931).

Wheat cutting is in progress at many points throughout the Province and will be general by the middle of next week according to telegraphic reports. South and southeast of Calgary and in the Peace River district, crops are more advanced and more cutting has been done than in the north-central and northern areas. The warm weather of the past ten days has been ideal for hastening maturity, but a continuation of this weather is necessary, particularly where wind damage and dry conditions of the past spring caused late germination.

Hail damage has been reported at a number of points during the past fortnight and damage from this cause is considerable. Frost has occurred in the Peace River district only. The extent of damage is not fully known but it is not likely to be serious. Losses as a result of rust and other plant diseases are very light.

Condition remain unchanged in the east-central and south-eastern area. Shortage of pasture and water for stock constitutes a serious problem in some districts. Fortunately feed is very abundant over the greater part of the Province and there will be an adequate supply. Much of the partially hauled crop is being cut for feed. Haying has been carried on under favorable conditions in the irrigated districts and the second cutting of alfalfa is now in the stack. In those areas where rain has been a frequent occurrence, progress has been slow and much of the hay has deteriorated in quality. Sugar beet yields will be lower than of last year, but may be said to be fairly satisfactory.

rather have the cash than the car or the trip, we will give them the equivalent of the trip, which is $300, California or Cash

Second award is a wonderful vacation trip to California and return with all expenses paid. This is a trip that everyone has often wished to take and here it is offered to you just for your spare time work. Just imagine going this winter to the sunny climate of California; the land of sunshine, flowers and romance. Many side trips on land and water are included in this trip.

However, if the winner of this prize so desires, they will be given the cash equivalent of the trip which is $350. Think of the many things you would like to have that this money will buy.

Then there are four more cash prizes based on the effort you put into the drive. AND MOST WONDERFUL of all you will actually BE PAID each week you work.

Then there are numerous commission prizes for those who do not win one of the above major awards. In fact in this drive EVERYBODY is a winner, and there are no losers.

You Are Paid To Win
And that of all people participating in this drive will receive weekly commission checks throughout the campaign, which makes this the most attractive offer of its kind ever made in Alberta. Each week while you are piling up credits, you win one of the big prizes offered. We pay you a cash commission. Therefore you cannot lose in any sense of the word, and it opens an opportunity for many of the ambitious people of this vicinity to gain rich awards during the next few weeks.

Short and Snappy
This drive will NOT be a long drawn out affair of several months duration but will extend over a period of but six and one-half weeks, closing on the 17th day of October. Just think of being able to secure in a few weeks' time, big and rich awards that ordinarily would require years and tedious months, yes, even years, of hard saving and self-denial to acquire.

Don't Wait—Start Today
Don't wait until somebody else more ambitious and energetic, enters the race and gets some of the subscriptions of your close friends, that should be yours, but enter this interesting competition today and enjoy the race and earn some of the big awards and the commissions.

New Subscriptions Count for More
All subscriptions—new or old—will bring you credits. You can collect up subscriptions in arrears, or collect for subscriptions in advance as well as new ones. You receive commissions and credits on all. But the new subscriptions count for MORE credits.

Information and Assistance
In order to give everyone who enters this interesting competition the greatest possible assistance, a campaign department has been created and experienced managers placed in full charge, who will give full and undivided attention to all those who take part. Participants residing in the remotest part of the district will receive the same attention and consideration as those living right next door.

Start in today. It is well worth your while. Read over the announcement in this issue, clip out the coupons and bring them to this office and allow us to explain the offer in every detail.

Messrs. A. G. and Frank Gross, who have been renewing acquaintance and transacting business in the community, returned to their homes in Puyallup, Wash., a few days ago.

Bouquets

The party of athletes who attended the Track and Field Championships at Wetaskiwin, returned to Cardston on Thursday evening and all report a wonderful trip. Favored with ideal weather and a perfect track the large attendance was treated to a display of athletic prowess which has never been equalled in Canada. From the opening ceremonies, at which Lieutenant-Governor Walsh officiated, until the closing moments of the banquet, which was tendered to the athletes and officials, on the evening of the last day, there was not one wasted moment. Favorable comment was heard on all sides, from contestants and spectators, for the capable and efficient manner in which the meet was conducted.—Cardston News.

To try and describe the wonderful display of the Wetaskiwin meet, would be impossible. But one must certainly admire the smooth way that all events were handled, there being not one dull moment from the start of the races till the last final heat was run. Not a thing in detail was missing; everybody on the grounds knowing what to do and when to do it, and a great deal of thanks must be given to the officials in charge. Even at an Olympic meet things could not have been run more smoothly than they were in the little city of Wetaskiwin.

The athletic meet was a great experience for all who made the trip. All said the same, that they are getting down to real training and will do everything to get on next year's team.—High River Times.

J. Morrison Clark, general secretary of the Cranbrook Railway Y.M.C.A., writes: "I have been connected with athletes for over twenty-five years and can truly say that the meet held by you and the great efforts of Wetaskiwin was a record for me. I ever attended. Congratulations are surely coming to you all for the business-like manner in which everything was carried off."

W. E. Payne, K.C., of Red Deer, who has had years of experience in the athletic field, says: "I am writing you to congratulate you on what I consider one of the most successful track meets I have ever seen or heard of. Not only were the contestants good, in some cases the best we have ever had in Canada, but everything went extremely smooth, no decisions were questioned, and the harmony that prevailed throughout the entire meet was also shown at the banquet in the evening. I personally wish to congratulate you on the outstanding success of the meet."

R. B. Wilson, sporting editor of the Calgary Herald, in a communication extends his "personal congratulations on the wonderful success of the sports meet held recently in Wetaskiwin."

HERD OF 20,000 BUFFALOES

Wainwright, Alberta. — Twenty-three years ago the Canadian government bought about 300 buffaloes in Montana. They were the survivors of many hundreds of thousands that formerly roamed the prairies of Canada and the United States, their natural habitat. The herd of survivors were transferred to a special reserve in the Canadian National Park at Wainwright, Alberta. There they thrived and multiplied so rapidly that it was soon necessary to transfer large numbers to the Northwest Territories and also to kill a number every year. At last, however, a herd of 6,000 in the park at Wainwright, 1,000 at Elk Island Park, Alberta, and about 13,000 at Wood Buffalo Park, Northwest Territories. In these reserves the animals roam over sections of their natural habitat much as did their ancestors in the earlier days.

FINE SAMPLE WHEAT SENT

"Will you please look this sample of wheat over," a note from Angus MacDonald of Fisher Home, in the Wetaskiwin district, Mr. MacDonald's homestead lies at the north end of Pigeon Lake. The sample of wheat he sends, in measures 54 inches. It is not only tall for its age, but it is beautifully headed out and gives every promise that all being well there will be a splendid crop from the field from which it came.—Journal.

MINISTERS HOLD CONFERENCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Edmonton, Aug. 25.—Uniform relief measures, wage scales on unemployment relief projects and general highways policies, including the route of the proposed Trans-Canada highway were among the matters discussed at a conference held at the Legislative Buildings on Monday between Hon. George Hoadley, acting Premier and Minister of Agriculture and Health, Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, and Premier J. T. M. Anderson, of Saskatchewan.

Following the conference both Premier Anderson and Mr. Hoadley declined to commit themselves beyond stating what had been discussed. Both said that the conference had been purely informal and in the nature of an exchange of views. Thus, nothing definite had materialized. A statement in regard to the Trans-Canada highway, Mr. McPherson intimated, that such would be forthcoming in the near future.

ECONOMY PREVENTS HIGHWAY OILING

Calgary, Aug. 19.—"Oiling of the main highway between Calgary and Edmonton and other highways throughout the province was not carried out this year because the government felt that it could not afford to carry on this work and there is little likelihood of an oiling program being planned next year unless financial conditions in this province improve considerably," Premier J. E. Brown stated Wednesday morning when questioned concerning the condition of the main highways.

FAMILY REUNION AT PIGEON LAKE

An interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leeman of Pigeon Lake, Alberta, on Sunday, August 16, in the form of a family reunion, when Mrs. Leeman's father, her two sisters and two brothers with their families, gathered together for the first time in 15 years.

The afternoon was spent in singing old songs and recalling bygone days with laughter and a few tears.

The family included: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leeman, Miss Margaret and Miss Dorothy Leeman of Pigeon Lake; Mr. George Sheane of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sheane and son Jack of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. George Perring and Miss Mary of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. T. Lane, Miss Ethel, Mr. Cecil, Mr. Robert and Mr. Harry of Wetaskiwin; Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheane, Miss Dorothy and Miss Inez of Edmonton, formerly of Betuasejour, Manitoba.

ENJOYABLE SURPRISE PARTY TENDERED MRS. FOSTVET

On Wednesday afternoon, August 19th, Mrs. Fostvet's home on Court House Ave. was the scene of a pleasant and enjoyable surprise party.

About 3 o'clock a number of cars drove up to the place and the occupants soon found their way into the house. Thelma and Valborg, though somewhat bewildered, received the uninvited guests very cordially, but Mrs. Fostvet was nowhere to be seen. When it was learned that she had gone out for an afternoon call, messengers were hurriedly dispatched to bring her home, telling her that some friends from the city had come to see her (which was true, although it was not the whole truth). Upon entering the house she found a great many visitors, not only from Camrose but also from Asker, Crooked Lake and Wetaskiwin.

An informal program was then rendered, composed of instrumental and vocal selections, hymn singing by the audience, and several short speeches.

Regrets were expressed that Mrs. Fostvet and two children now find it necessary to leave Wetaskiwin, at least for the time being, and many warm tributes were voiced in appreciation of the services she had rendered in the congregation and community with her various talents and accomplishments. As a token of loving esteem and goodwill, a purse was presented to her.

The women, true to their kind, had used their foresight and forethought also upon this occasion, so that immediately following the program the guests were invited to a bounteous repast, after which they departed, all feeling that they had spent a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon.

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mrs. Fostvet on Monday evening last, when the ladies of the Scandinavian Hospital Aid came to bid her goodbye as she is leaving the city to make her home in Camrose. A program of violin and piano duets, recitations, solos, readings and speeches was rendered, and the President, Mrs. Carlson, on behalf of the Hospital Aid, presented Mrs. Fostvet with a purse of silver as a slight token of appreciation of her work and friendship during her twenty years' sojourn in Wetaskiwin.

Mrs. Fostvet replied in a very earnest and touching manner, and said that she would miss the Aid and its work very much indeed, and thanked the ladies for their kindness and love and sympathy shown her while residing here. A very dainty lunch was served. She left the following day for Camrose with her son and daughter. All her friends here join in wishing her success and happiness in her new home.

The Wednesday half holidays have terminated for the summer, and the business places in Wetaskiwin will remain open next Wednesday.

A special meeting of the City Council was held on Thursday evening to receive a report of the visit of Mayor Howatt who attended the unemployment relief conference at Calgary.

His Worship reported that the governments were prepared to enter into an arrangement with the city in gravelling the highway from the Camrose road, via the Court House and Pearce street, making connection with the Edmonton-Calgary road; also gravelling Railway street west from the Dravid Hotel corner connecting with the gravel on the north, and would also assist in gravelling the road from the Court House corner to the gravel on the Malmu highway. The cost to the city would be approximately $3700.00. After a general discussion the Council agreed to proceed with the program outlined and submitted to the Alberta government, work to commence as soon as contract is signed. As soon as the total amount of the city's expenditure is ascertained, a money by-law will be submitted to the burgesses.

Another special meeting of the Council was held on Tuesday evening when the matter of the proposed new hospital and the gravelling of the city streets were the major problems considered but no definite action was taken.

BOARD OF PUBLIC UTILITIES APPROVES HOSPITAL SCHEME

Word was received in Wetaskiwin on Friday last that the Board of Public Utilities has approved of the proposed method of financing the new hospital building to be erected in Wetaskiwin. This information is very pleasing to those concerned and there is now little doubt but that work on the new building will be commenced this fall, just as soon as the Municipal Districts of Blaine and Montgomery as well as the City of Wetaskiwin give their approval to the proposition, and as soon as other arrangements can be completed.

HOSPITAL MAY BE BUILT UNDER UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF PLAN

When Mayor Howatt, who is an indefatigable worker in the interests of the proposed new hospital in Wetaskiwin, was in Calgary last week attending the conference with Premier Bennett, and Premier Broyles to consider the matter of unemployment and relief, he made strong representations that assistance should be given in the construction of the proposed new hospital for Wetaskiwin, as a lot of unskilled labor would be used, and men with teams would be given considerable work in the excavation for the basement and foundations. He presented his claims so forcefully that many of the delegates to the conference thought favorably of the proposal, and His Worship has good reason to expect that the Dominion and Provincial Governments will contribute sixty-five per cent of the cost of the new building. This will amount to from $9,000 to $10,000, as a local contractor has estimated that if the building is finished in stucco about $15,000 would be paid for labor only.

If this scheme is approved, it will effect a very great saving in the appropriation made by the three municipalities concerned, namely, Blaine, Montgomery and Wetaskiwin.

QUEBEC RETURNS LIBERAL GOVERNMENT

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Quebec remained faithful to the Liberal regime which has governed it for the past 34 years in the provincial general election held Monday. The government of Hon. L. A. Taschereau was returned to power by a majority, which it was estimated would be between 69 and 70 out of a legislature of 90 seats.

Camille Houde, leader of the Opposition, who challenged Premier Taschereau, Premier of the province since 1920, was himself defeated in the two Montreal constituencies in which he ran, and is consequently without a seat in the new House.

The schools in the city will open for the autumn term on Tuesday next, September 1st.

FALSE RUMORS BEING CIRCULATED RESPECTING HOSPITAL

We have been informed that there are statements being made through the district respecting the proposed closing of the Wetaskiwin hospital, which are untrue, and have doubtless been started to influence the electors should a vote on the proposition be submitted in the near future. One of these statements is that Mayor B. D. Howatt of Wetaskiwin, was responsible for the closing of the hospital.

We have made inquiries respecting this matter, and find that Mr. Howatt had nothing whatever to do with the threatened action of the government. The first inspection of the hospital was made by Dr. Bow, deputy minister of health, some time ago, when he called at the office of His Worship, and stated he was in Wetaskiwin to make an inspection of the hospital, when the former made a few comments and made the statement that the visit on that occasion was carrying out a general policy of the government which was making a survey of all hospitals in the province, particularly in respect to the hazard from fire.

The second inspection was made some time later, by Dr. Brathwaite, of the provincial department of health, who was accompanied by Mr. Moore of the fire commissioner's office. These men were escorted through the institution by an alderman, and the inspection was almost completed, before Mayor Howatt knew they were in the city.

About three weeks before the inspection made by Dr. Bow, a provincial fire inspector went to the hospital and before announcing his presence made an inspection of the basement, and then made himself known to the matron, Miss McWhinnie, who then accompanied him through the remainder of the building. He intimated that a later date he would make suggestions as to what could be done to lessen the fire risk. This appeared in Wetaskiwin without the knowledge of Mayor Howatt or any of the aldermen.

The statement that Mayor Howatt is responsible for the government condemning and ordering the hospital closed is a grave charge against the integrity of that official and is a reflection as well on the officials of the government fire commissioner's department. We cannot believe that anyone would be so vicious and venomous enough to criticize these officials, if they were conversant with the facts.

It is worthy of note that a hospital in the constituency of Hon. George Headley has been closed, and also issued to the managers of a large hospital in one of the largest cities in the province in respect to the fire hazard, which proves conclusively that a general survey has been made and that no local official is responsible for the action taken in connection with the closing of the Wetaskiwin hospital.

WETASKIWINITES URGED TO SEE BEST BRITISH PICTURES

An exhibition of "Water Colors" executed by about one hundred and twenty outstanding British artists and comprising about three hundred pictures will be shown in the Edmonton Museum of Arts in their newly extended quarters in the Civic Block in the month of September, the exact date to be specified later. This is a very outstanding event in art circles in this city because of the fact that this is the best collection of water color pictures by British artists that has ever been shown, not only in Canada, but even in America. It is an opportunity that no one who has any interest in art or of any description can afford to miss, for it is very likely that such a large collection and of such merit will not be seen again in this country for many years. It embraces pictures by practically all of the best water color artists in Great Britain, the names of many of whom are familiar throughout the whole Empire, not to say the world at large. To give a few one might mention Sir George Clausen; Sir Charles Holmes, who was recently director of the National Gallery in London; Mulready Bone, who ranks among the few finest etchers in the world; Phillips Conrad, who has recently completed the interior decorations of Windsor Castle for the King and Queen; Princess Patricia of Connaught, who lived in Canada for some time; the celebrated art critic and artist, Roger Fry; Martin Hardy, one of the directors of the South Kensington Museum; D. P. McCall, recently curator of the Wallace collection in London; Walter Russell, head of the Royal Academy Schools; the Nash brothers, Paul and Thomas; C. R. W. Nevinson, one of whose war pictures hangs in the National Gallery at Ottawa, celebrated for his quality of action in all his artistic productions; Lucien Pissarro; Henry Raeburn; Oliver Hall; Adrian Stokes; and Wilson Steer; besides many others of equal note.

In the group of three pictures by Laddy Patricia Ramsay is one of the Devonshire landscape. It is a beautiful representation of Devonshire landscape, simple, yet complex and colorful, showing the hills, valleys and trees of Devonshire, with their wide stretches of undulating land.

There is some figure work in the exhibition, but as is customary with the water-color medium most of the paintings deal with landscape, and some of the loveliest aspects of the British countryside and seashore are depicted in the soft and alluring tone combinations of this matter. All lovers of the wide out-of-doors will take delight in Sir George Clausen's three characteristic landscapes; in the white majesty of a scene in the Maritime Alps by Sir H. Hughes-Stanton, R.A.; in the unusual study of snow on the downs of Sussex by E. T. Holding; in the Scotch atmosphere and masterly draughtsmanship of "In the Outer Hebrides," by Keith Henderson, and memories of the hub of the universe will be graphically provoked by "Pleasantly Circus."

Other appealing efforts are depiction of an oldtime room, a fair girl and brilliant blues and sunlight effects by Anna Airy, R.I., an impressionistic study conspicuous for its treatment of mist by E. Plampied, R.E., the veritable magic of the fore-shore in George Charlton's "Life Boats"; the wonderful color combinations in a Suffolk landscape by John Nash; the instant poetry of that church of unforgettable memories, St. Martins in the Fields, by Karl Hagdorn; the loveliness of the end of a storm shift with sun-tinged clouds over a wide vista of countryside by Percy Lancaster, R.I., and the masterly drawing and fine perspective of Madeline Wells in the "Bridge at Valencia."

This exhibition has been procured through the National Gallery at Ottawa at an expense of $300 or more. The exhibition will either be free with a voluntary contribution, or else a very small admittance fee charged. The directors of the Museum of Arts in Edmonton are hoping that the people of this community will take advantage of such a wonderful opportunity of seeing so many high-class pictures, and thereby assisting them in this enterprise if giving pleasure and education to the people of this part of the province. Exhibition is open every afternoon and certain evenings to be announced later.

AN OLD MAN TO HIS HORSE

Why, Prince, your flanks have lost their sheen.
And grey I see where brown has been;
Your head seems just a trifle low—
That graceful neck has lost its bow;
But quite unchanged your faithful eyes,
Within whose depths such wisdom lies;
Your heart's as true as yesterday,
When you were handsome, young and gay;
Somehow it makes me glad to see
That you are growing old with me;
The young folks might not understand
How much you loved to feel my hand
Upon your head. Do you suppose
They'd know just how to stroke your nose?
They might forget the sugar, too, and
And secrets just 'twixt me and you;
I would not want to leave you here
When I am gone, Prince, just for fear
You'd grieve too much—Ah! What of me?
'Twould not be Heaven without thee.
—Willie Hoey.

She greets him with a cheery smile

What keeps her so fresh—WRIGLEY'S. She knows that if you keep your mouth fresh, you feel fresh. The cool flavor of WRIGLEY'S Chewing Gum
refreshes the mouth
as nothing else can.

COMMUNICATION

[We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.]

To the Editor of The Times.

Dear Sir:
The Hospital question has of necessity cropped up again.

The Wetaskiwin Hospital building has been quite properly condemned by Provincial Government officials who are charged with the responsibility of public safety. The Wetaskiwin hospital is a fire trap, and as a hospital building is a joke. There is no more pathetic nor disgraceful sight than to see the sick, the halt and the lame struggling up awkward flights of stairs to reach a hospital ward and a place of dire insecurity should a fire occur in the building.

Ratepayers should give us heed to statements that the condemning of the Wetaskiwin Hospital was arranged for by interested people. Such statements are manifestly untrue. The only strange thing about the condemnation of the hospital is that it was not condemned long ago, together with the U.F.A. hall, for public purposes. This building was condemned on account of fire hazards as soon as a delinquent government department realized the seriousness of their responsibilities in the matter of public safety.

Too, the present Wetaskiwin hospital is most unfavorably situated, for railway operations during the night subject patients to frightful disturbances which can only be compared with bomb explosions.

It is a pity that those who are opposed to the provision of proper hospital accommodation have no better taste than to cast reflections of ulterior motives on those who have not shirked public responsibilities, and are serving the people to the best of their ability.

The Mayor of Wetaskiwin and the Reeves of the Municipalities have, I am convinced, with the aid of expert advice from government experts, conscientiously dealt with the hospital problem as it should have been dealt with. Nothing has transpired in this district to suggest even a doubt as to the integrity of the whole membership of our local public bodies. An examination into the hospital question such as I have made reveals nothing but a careful regard for the interests of the public on the part of the Mayor, the Reeves and Councilors of the City and Municipalities.

The new hospital of twenty-bed capacity it is proposed will be built in the west end of the city. Its cost is estimated as $40,000, to which the City of Wetaskiwin contributes its cash hospital surplus of $10,000, which leaves a balance of $30,000 to raise. Contributions to this loan are made by the three authorities on a per capita basis. But these contributions can be materially reduced by contributions for labor under the employment scheme of both the Provincial and Dominion government. It is estimated that on this account something approaching $10,000 will be contributed to our hospital by the governments.

Besides the cash surplus from the City of Wetaskiwin the new hospital will take over the present stores and equipment which is valued at around three thousand dollars. The outstanding accounts of $20,000 will also be turned over, but probably only 25 per cent of these will be collectable.

The new hospital will be administered by a Hospital Board consisting of the Mayor, two Reeves and a Councillor from each body, and a private citizen from each district represented.

A decent hospital is a prime necessity. Now it can be built under the most favorable conditions and provide much needed employment. To miss the present opportunity of establishing decent hospital accommodation at a time when materials are cheapest, and when government assistance can be had toward the capital cost of the institution is nothing less than short-sighted foolishness, and is mainly due to selfishness of men who have got more land than they know what to do with. To call for a vote is an expression of want of confidence in your elected representatives who have gone carefully into the whole question. I would suggest to all who have been misled into signing a petition for a vote on the hospital question that they write to their municipal secretary and ask that their names be struck off such petition. A hospital has to be provided and there is no better time than now.

APPLE SEASON RETURNS

Speaking of timely topics, now that the apple season is here again the Dominion Fruit Branch supplies facts about the food value of apples which have special interest.

The varieties of fruits consumed are numerous and their use is important to a proper diet, but no fruit is more valuable than the apple. "An apple a day" is a real health message. They act as a tonic and regulator and thus are the cheapest as well as the most pleasant form of medicine one can buy.

They are source of natural fruit sugar and thus provide energy. Eat

The Calgary Power Co. in a letter to the Camrose Council last week, stated that the Company proposes to discontinue the free delivery of drinking water at the end of this month as we find the quality of the water now in the mains is such as to make this unnecessary.

Dysentery Is a Very Dangerous Bowel Complaint

Mrs. E. M. Ward, 627 Ave. H. South, Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"When my husband was in France he took dysentery, and was in hospital over 6 years. Ever since he came back he has had the attacks three or four times a year. I cannot emphasize the good Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has done for him. He generally takes a few doses and gets relief in a few hours. "I cannot speak too highly of your excellent remedy, and you may be sure we are never without a bottle of it in the house."

Captain Robert Dollar, America's greatest steamship operator, president of the Dollar Line, says: "When I took over a fleet of 20 ships a few years ago, I was told I could not run them successfully unless I served liquor on board. Not a drop of liquor has ever been served on one of the ships and they are running still and the passenger list is always filled. If ever I have to turn to bootlegging or serve liquor on my ships I'll give up or go broke—I won't do it. My ships have never carried liquor and never will."

Mrs. Wells, former member of the Ohio Senate, now assistant trustee of the Ohio Savings Bank and Trust Co., while touring Canada, recently, discussed the Prohibition question with a Calgary Herald reporter. She said while a few women have organized to aid wet forces, fear of the return of the saloon and all the conditions that prevailed before the advent of prohibition is keeping the women of America on the side of dry enforcement.

owned and operated by any government. Further, all the liquor sold by the 588 government establishments is purchased from private manufacturers or dealers and before the government sets it, pays its toll of private profit to private interests.

Second—Sale, not control, is the dominating characteristic.
Third—The saloon or bar-room persists, though under another name.
Fourth—Bootlegging, or illicit sale has not been abolished, on the contrary, it is very definitely on the increase, as convictions for violating liquor laws conclusively prove.

"Viewed from the standpoint of those who make and who wish to derive a profit from the sale of liquor, and those who buy and wish to derive sensations of intoxication from the consumption of liquor, Government liquor control so far appears to be a success."—Christian Science Monitor.

PIGEON LAKE MISSION OUTPOST OF CIVILIZATION SEVENTY YEARS AGO

A Methodist mission was established on the north shore of Pigeon Lake 70 years ago making that region one of the early outposts of civilization. The mission finally was closed and today two popular summer resorts make the name of Pigeon Lake well-known in all sections of Central Alberta.

For long centuries, how many anyone is free to guess, the solitude of Pigeon Lake were disturbed only by the presence of the country's native inhabitants, the Indians, by wild animals and birds, by the gentle lapping of waves on the sandy shore in calm weather, and the thunder of the gale in stormy season as it drove the white-capped swells in upon the beach and roared away through the lofty pines. Today, Pigeon Lake, ten miles long and six miles wide, 2,770 feet above sea level, and sixty miles west of Camrose, is a favored summer resort, and this year particularly has seen an influx of Camrose folk to its north and south beaches.

The first records, and perhaps the only early history, of the lake may be found in the story of the life and experiences of the intrepid Methodist missionary, George McDougall. He it was who, on coming to the great western plains to preach the Gospel to the Indians, eventually made his way to this section of Alberta, and established a mission at Victoria, near the present hamlet of Brossaun on the North Saskatchewan. On July 23, 1862, Mr. McDougall wrote to the head of Missions asking if something could not be done for the thousands of Indians in the neighborhood of Edmonton, stating that five hundred Stoney Indians, many of whom were already familiar with the work of the missionaries, were asking for a spiritual guide.

On September 2, 1862, nearly 70 years ago, describing his arrival in the far west, among the Blackfeet, he wrote, "We are now on our way to Fort Edmonton. Buffalo and elk are abundant. A short time later he chronicles that by way of a detour they "crossed the source of the Battle River and came out on the shores of Pigeon Lake, a sheet of water covering about 75 square miles, abounding in fish, and on the northern bank of which they located the site for a mission to be a centre for the Mountain and Wood Strokes and Cree." In March of 1863 or '64, he had some material transported from Victoria to Pigeon Lake by dog train. The missionary sent his son to take up work on the new ground. Old-timers living at the lake record that the mission was in existence until about 60 years ago. For two years he kept his son at Woodville. Map-makers have since given this spot the name of Fisher Home, after the house of a famous fisherman of the region.

In several places in the book written by John McDougall, a son of the missionary, several references are made to the lake, for instance, "The night of father's arrival at Pigeon Lake the people there were gathered for service." In 1870 we are told smallpox ravaged many of the tribes including those around the missions mentioned but this is a story in itself. In 1871 $100.00 was appropriated for the work on the church at Woodville. In the same year the energetic missionary established a mission at Edmonton. Had it not been for the mission and a Hudson Bay post to the south-west the little lake would probably have had little history attached to it.

How did the lake get its name? It was first called by the Indians, "Woodpecker" which in Cree is "Am-lmoos-ska-biga" and in Stoney, "Kakagamma." The reason for changing to Pigeon, "ma-me-o," in Indian, is not at the moment clear. At any rate the lake is considered to be one of the purest and clearest in Central Alberta. It is fed by creeks and springs, the one located at Fisher Home giving a continuous flow in summer and winter. The Pigeon Creek flows out at the south end and empties into the Battle River. The maximum depth of the lake is 45 feet. It boasts one small island which in turn is distinguished by two spruce trees. Thousands of California and Ringbill gulls nest there every spring.

There are two summer resorts, one at Mulhurst, commonly referred to as the North Shore, and the other at Ma-me-o, or South shore. The latter lies within the reserve known as Pigeon Lake Indian fishing reserve, established some 35 years ago to provide the Wood Cree and Wood Strokes with the fishing grounds. Nearly all of the Indians have since moved to Wabamun and Morley. There are four reservations to the southeast of the lake, and south of Wetaskiwin, generally referred to as Hobbema, since the administration buildings are located at that point. Ma-me-o beach is under the direction of the department of Indian Affairs. The short distance south, and located in the store of a pioneer businessman, Mr. McRae. This settlement was established about 25 years ago by Scandinavian people.

Government regulation allow some 150,000 pounds of fish to be taken from the lake during the open season. Perch, jack-fish, walleye pike, suckers, whitefish and dogfish provide good sport for the vacationist and yield heavy catches to winter fishermen.

Game still abounds in the vicinity of Pigeon and Buck lakes and a large tract of country to the west. Mr. L. J. Wood, a pioneer resident of 40 years' standing, now a store-keeper at Ma-me-o, traded in furs in the early days when beaver, muskrats, bear and mink were plentiful. In later years the land was taken up for settlement and the denizens of the forest had to retreat before the advance of civilization. Black bear, moose, black-tailed deer, lynx, weasels, mink and muskrats still inhabit the locality in small numbers. Huge beaver dams bear mute testimony to the activity of these sturdy and industrious animals in a bygone day.

Among the summer birds to be noted about the spruces, balsam poplars and other native trees, shrubs and bushes which surround the lake are the ruby-crowned kinglet, northern yellowthroat, Tennessee warbler, and Western tanager. Among the feathered folk peculiar to the region and which stay the year round are the whistling-jack, American three-toed, Arctic three-toed and Pileated woodpeckers, Hudsonian chickadee and Bohemian waxwing. Lumbering is carried on in the region of the lake, although the stands of spruce are becoming depleted. Snell Bros., who were at Battle Lake for a number of years are now located on the west shore and the smoke from their mill can be clearly seen by the cottagers.

At Ma-me-o beach there are 70 cottages and some 30 tents this year which have housed a maximum population of five hundred persons. Old-timers recall that the picturesque lake, approachable in early days by way of a circuitous trail, has been the rendezvous of camping parties for 25 years. It is an ideal spot for the vacationist who does not demand too much in the way of conveniences, and affords a safe "playground" for the children as the water deepens gradually from a well-sanded beach. That its charms are becoming more fully recognized each year would seem to be indicated by the fact that a score of new cottages have been built at the South shore this year, the property of Camrose, Edmonton and Wetaskiwin people. The lumber is bought in the vicinity at moderate prices.

The popularity of the lake as a summer resort is firmly established, and it is hoped the day is not far distant when a gravelled road will make it easily accessible in all kinds of weather.—Camrose Canadian.

Article I

Introduction

The writer is glad to have the opportunity of presenting a series of articles for the use, advice and guidance of the many prospective grain exhibitors who contemplate showing their quality samples at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held at Regina, next year. He also feels much indebted to the foresight of the Executive for making it possible to render this real service to prospective exhibitors and at such a time as now when the harvest and dreams of plans and preparation are so near at hand.

Each article will follow in its proper sequence, for use and adaptation, or that the prospective exhibitor may be assisted in obtaining an exact knowledge of what to look for and where, when and how he may expect to find his samples for the World's Grain Show, and later on, how to work them into a finished product.

For the purpose of giving some idea of the scope of the subject, "Growing, Selection and Preparation of Grain and Seed for Exhibition," it has been thought advisable, in the first of these articles, to give a brief synopsis of the various matters to be dealt with.

In simple and easily understood words the subject matter will be discussed as clearly as possible in the following order:

Show samples to expect from Canada's 1931 crop; prospects for a prize sample; how to distinguish a show sample; what chances to depend upon from a large field; what the last ten days determine; what to look for; preparing a select field for harvest; when to harvest; best time to cut; quick methods—harvesting and roguing; how much to harvest for a show sample; preserving and curing; rules and signs to follow; emergency methods; time to thresh; preparation and reselection of sheaves and heads for growing tests; when threshed changes in purity growing tests determined; quick safe and easy methods of threshing and separating; caring for the threshed sample before and during final preparation; effect of frost, air, moisture and heat during preparation; shrinking; preparation and uniforming—screens, gravity and air; slooting; how to eliminate most of the handling by mechanical methods; can be taken out by mechanical means; easy, quick and safe ways of hand-picking; the best colors to work over for different grains, lights and diseases; what to look for in a hand-picked sample; what determines weight, uniformity, color and lustre; how to get the maximum; how essentials may be "fixed" to show slowest deterioration; previous year's samples may ensure best changes; how to keep and renovate carry-over samples; how to decide whether these should be considered; germination, measurements and shapes; what and why are the best sizes and shapes; proportions to expect in balancing up; sizes, kinds and shapes of screens and sieves; the exhibitor a judge and "doctor of disease"; how to make a sample attractive—lustre; finest lustre, color and finish by using only methods closest to nature—simple and safe; protecting germination; safest and best method to transport a show sample to the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932.

PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of this big "Weekly Payroll" Drive is two-fold. Primarily, to increase the already large subscription list of this newspaper; to collect arrearages and advance subscription payments from present or old subscribers, and at the same time to afford the live-wire, energetic men and women, boys and girls, of this territory an opportunity to profit in a BIG way through their spare time during the next few weeks. So, it is a plan that works both ways, and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, the most attractive awards ever offered by any newspaper in this section have been made ready for distribution among those who participate most actively. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success.

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is not a "beauty" nor "popularity" contest, but a strictly legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and one into which no element of chance enters. Each active participant will receive a pay check every Saturday night. One feature of this drive is the fact that "Everybody Wins." There will be no losers.

HOW TO ENTER—WHAT TO DO

The first thing to do is to clip the Entry Coupon appearing below; fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to this newspaper at once. This coupon entitles you, or the person whom you might wish to enter, to 5,000 free credits. These credits are given as a starter to speed you on your way to win. Only one such Entry Coupon will be accepted for each participant.

The next step is to call or write the "Weekly Payroll" Department for a free working outfit. Thus equipped, you have but to see your friends and acquaintances and have them subscribe to this newspaper through you. That's all there is to it! However, you will never get anywhere unless you make the start—the earlier the better. Once started, let no one discourage you. Anything worth having is worth striving for. Six and a half short weeks and you may be riding in your own BIG automobile or otherwise several hundred dollars richer in purse.

HOW CREDITS ARE SECURED

It takes credits to win, and they are secured in the following ways: First by clipping the Free Credit Coupons appearing in each issue of this newspaper. There is no limit to the number of these coupons you may secure. Get your friends to save them for you. They all count. Begin gathering them NOW while they are good for 100 credits each. After next week these coupons will be reduced to 50 credits each. The following week to 10 credits, and after that they will be discontinued entirely. The only restriction placed on these coupons is that they must be cast before the expiration date.

The other, and much faster way to accumulate credits in this "Weekly Payroll" Drive is by securing new and renewal subscriptions to this newspaper. On each order secured credits are issued, the number varying according to the amount paid and during "period" same are received at the "Weekly Payroll" Department of this newspaper. (See schedule of credits below.)

EARLY START MEANS EASY FINISH

The advantages of an early start are manifest. This "Weekly Payroll" drive is of such short duration that immediate action is necessary for success. Orders taken during the early part of the campaign carry the MAXIMUM number of credits. Then, too, the first in the field will undoubtedly get the "cream" of credits and subscriptions, while those who put off entering until a later date will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time "waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do," but pitch right in and show the "other fellow" how to do it!

YOUR opportunity is KNOCKING!

We don't say that you have never had good opportunities offered you before, but we do believe this is the best chance to earn big money during spare time ever offered in this territory. You can earn better than $150 a week.

For further information, Call, Write, or Phone 27.

The residents of Rocky Mountain House were shocked to learn on Friday evening of the loss of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rangen. In the fire which destroyed their house, Mr. and Mrs. Rangen had gone to the dance a block or two away, intending to return in an hour or two, and they had left a lighted lamp in the room where their eighteen-month-old daughter was sleeping. The first intimation of danger was when someone noticed that the house was in flames, and gave the alarm at once. It was too late to do anything then, and the house and its contents were burnt to the ground.

The largest single shipment of white fox pelts ever received in Winnipeg reached there by C. N. R. recently, having been transported from the shores of Hudson Bay over the Hudson Bay railway. The shipment, which was killed independently, included 431 white fox pelts and a dozen red fox pelts, all of which were trapped in the far north during the past winter.

The fire brigade was called out on Tuesday to the home of L. G. Kelley, when a short circuit in the radio threatened a fire. No damage was done.
